Who We Are

STILL File Storage is a family owned and operated company. We store, protect, and manage business records and archives. We have over 6,500 square feet of space available at our new facility at 133 Cumberland Street in downtown Kingsport, TN.

Our facility has ADT Security Protection and is located adjacent to the Main Fire Station. While our file storage is a new facility, we have an 83 year history of service to our customers and have done file storage in our household goods storage facilities for many years. We decided to dedicate one facility to this type of storage to offer a more fitting rack system with easier access and availability. Our decades of storage experience will provide a great start as we enter the file storage business.

The Bottom Line

What sets STILL File Storage above the rest is the incorporation of customer service into the management of your archive material. Normally companies pay up to 50% more in un-utilized storage or office space expenses through self storage units or existing office areas.

Why Choose STILL File Storage?

The management of business records is often given very little attention. It expends valuable staff time and many expenses such as storage shelving costs, rent, and lighting. As a space availability decreases in your office or home, it can become increasingly difficult to organize and retrieve your archive files. You can get maximum value and utilization of your office space by storing your archive files off site at STILL File Storage. Our facilities are brick construction with insulation and humidity control to preserve your files. This Downtown Kingsport facility is highly secure and is located adjacent to the central fire station. Storing at Still File Storage is a safe and cost efficient way to solve your file storage problem.
